CRIMINAL ACTION
DOCKET NO. CR-11-573

STATE OF MAINE

v.

AMANDA SALISBURY,

Defendant

ORDER ON DEFENDANT'S
MOTION TO DISMISS INDICTMENT

The defendant moves to dismiss the indictment. The defendant argues that because a grand jury subpoena issued for her confidential banking records from the Savings Bank of Maine without her knowledge and without compliance with M.R. Crim. P. 17(c), the indictment must be dismissed. For the following reasons, the motion is denied.

Pursuant to section 163, it is clear that in criminal proceedings the customer need not be notified when bank records are subpoenaed:

The court for good cause shown may delay or dispense with service of the subpoena, summons, warrant or court order upon the customer. The court shall delay or dispense with service of the subpoena, summons, warrant or court order upon the customer upon notice by the Attorney General, the Attorney General's designee or the District Attorney that service upon the customer would not be in the public interest. A subpoena, summons or warrant issued in connection with a criminal proceeding or state or federal grand jury proceeding . . . need not be served on the customer.

9-B M.R.S. § 163 (2011). Additionally, the Law Court has noted that violation of section 163 does not lead to an exclusion of evidence: "Even if we assume that the State did not comply with § 163, we would be disinclined at this time to apply an exclusionary rule. Section 163 does not mandate such a rule, and there is not the slightest suggestion on the facts here that such a rule is necessary to deter unlawful governmental conduct." State v. Fredette, 411 A.2d 65, 67 n.4 (Me. 1979); see also Porter v. Norway Sav. Bank, 2011 Me. Super. LEXIS 15, *4 (Feb. 23, 2011) (subpoena requesting certain financial records that was issued in connection with a grand jury proceeding was found to be lawful on its face; the subpoena did not have to be served on the customer before the Bank acted and did not have to certify that it had been served).

The subpoenaed records are not protected from disclosure by a "privilege, confidentiality protection or privacy protection." M.R. Crim. P. 17(d). Accordingly, the Rule 17(d) procedure was not required.
